THE INSTITUTE.

WEDNESLAY MORNING.

Convened at regular hour. After opening exercises Mr Roark completed his outline of the psyshological value of studies, by speaking of expression studies, Reading, Com position and Debating, as the most important, with the first place given to debating.

The question, "What is the differ ence between the rich man and the tramp?" The Instructr says that the rich man lives off the community as much as the tramp; neither works, so their is really no difference. He thinks that every one should work, be he rich or poor. Mr. Roark next spoke of the opportunities offered by the A, and M. college at Lexington, Recess.

After recess the regular program me was taken up.

What branches should be added to the common school curriculum? was discussed by C R Newcom, J B Par is, Allen and others.

Messrs Newcom and Paris would not add to, but curtail the course. Messrs Allen and Evans opposed this Mr. Roark concluded the argument. He would prefer to eliminate the dry parts of arithmetic, technical gram. mar, etc., and add Nature study for special hours, and literature as supplementary reading.

Of what should opening exercises consist? was discussed by E E Thur man, he opens school with vocal mu sic and recitations.

A Family Reunton.

One of the real pleasant events in life took place at the home of Mr. John Nunn of Bells Mines Saturday. Mr. Nunn owns one of the best farms in his section of the county, and his pleasant home is surrounded by all of the conveniences and comforts that make the sun shine as delightfully apon old age as youth. Without letting him into the secret, his children arranged for a family reunion at his home Saturday. Imagine the please ant surprise of the cherry old centleman Saturday morning when his children, grandchildren, and great grand homestead. Who can measure the depths of delight that charmed all sombre thoughts from his mind when all had gathered at the home from which the children had departed in bygone years.
